Beginning of the End?

Mass immigration, both legal and illegal is threatening to destroy our race and nation. With up to 2 million third-world migrants entering Britain every year, our racial identity is under severe threat. Thirty percent of all babies born in Britain last year were born to non-UK born mothers. Most of these were of Indian and Nigerian origin. Our racial identity is in decline.

The British public never consented to sky-high immigration but have nevertheless been treated to a litany of empty promises to bring the numbers down. They now watch, open-jawed, the evisceration of border controls on the Channel. The government will pay a heavy price for their catastrophic failures to deal with both mass legal immigration and illegal immigration, and so they should.

Time for Action, not Talk!

Ban the Notting Hill Carnival

This year's Notting Hill Carnival resulted in over 300 arrests, and 8 people were stabbed. On Sunday, there were 110 arrests for offences including possession of offensive weapons, assaults including assaults on police officers, possession of drugs and sexual offences. On Monday there were a further 198 arrests including sexual assaults and 50 attacks on police, one of whom was bitten and treated in hospital.

Despite this appalling level of violence on our streets, a Met Police spokesman maintained, "the annual celebration of Caribbean culture is mainly a "positive experience".

The British Freedom Party are organising a petition to ban the carnival. Please sign it.

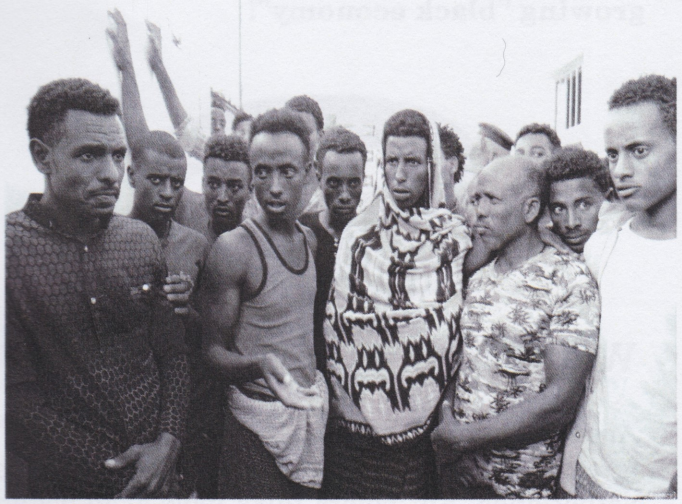
Mass Migration and the Changing Face of Britain

The British government's immigration controls could be easily compared to the "smoke and mirrors" tactic used by stage magicians to confuse their audiences in Victorian music halls. For whilst they boast that numbers of illegal migrants has declined slightly since the passing of the "Illegal Migration Bill" they neglect to admit they have allowed 2 million migrants into Britain legally in just two years!

In 2021 the figure of legal immigration including student visas and work permits totalled 942,000. This included family members.

In 2022, long-term immigration into the UK was an estimated 1.2 million. This is an estimated increase of 221,000 compared with 2021



Another "smoke and mirrors" tactic is to repeatedly quote the "net" migration figures which show the difference between the numbers of migrants arriving in Britain legally and the number leaving the country. According to the Office for National Statistics (ONS) in 2022, 1.2 million people migrated into the UK and 557,000 people emigrated from it, leaving a net migration figure of 606,000 as of the end of June 2022.

What is missing, is how the arrival of 1.2 million migrants changed the face of Britain.

Of those leaving, 92,000 were predominately White, Christian, British citizens, and 202,000 were predominately White, Christian, EU citizens. They were largely replaced by Indian and Pakistanis, arriving with work permits and study visas. Both groups were allowed to bring dependants with them.

According to the 2021 census 18% of people living in Britain were classed as non-White. As of the year ending June 2022, there were an estimated 10,388,000 people in England and Wales who were not born in the UK.

Since then another 2 million have arrived!

In just a couple more years, one in five Britons will be non-White. The indigenous White, Christian people of these Isles are being betrayed and marginalised. We urge all Nationalist parties to launch a joint campaign to .. "SAVE WHITE BRITAIN"

British Government Immigration Policy Makers.

Illegal Migration Act

Will New Migration Act Stop the "Invasion"?

As Britain faces an unprecedented invasion of its shores, our government continues with its "smoke and mirrors" tactics designed to confuse the British public into believing action is being taken.

The Illegal Migration Act is the latest gimmick being sold to native Britons.
The Act, which comes into operation on the 28th of September, changes the law so that those who arrive in the UK illegally will not be able to stay here and will instead be detained and then promptly removed, either to their home country, or a safe third country, where any asylum claim will be considered

The Act imposes a duty on the Home Secretary to remove any person from the United Kingdom, if they entered the UK in breach of immigration laws, or if they have travelled through a safe third country en route to the UK, and if they require leave to enter or remain, but do not have it.
The Act will only effect those arriving in Britain after the 7th of March 2023 which is when the new Act received Royal assent, thus having no impact on the 175,000 currently awaiting Asylum claims!

At present, Rwanda is the only safe third country being nominated by the government. If finally approved it could only accept a few hundred migrants, not the tens of thousands that are invading our country! The Rwanda option is little more than a gimmick!
As Britain runs out of places to house Asylum seekers, another gimmick under consideration is to make all illegal migrants wear electronic tags which would be monitored several times a day. It seems that no one at the Home Office is willing to concede that tags are easily removable and the illegal migrant could then simply vanish into Britain's growing "black economy"!

Will "Tagging" Stop the Invasion

Another gimmick is a planned "returns" agreement with France, Belgium and the Netherlands. But before talks have even begun the EU have vetoed any individual agreements by EU members. It has been muted that any returns agreement must obligate Britain taking in a percentage of the illegal migrants flooding into the EU. A figure of 100,000 a year has been mentioned!
Under Section 12 of the act, the Home Secretary now has the power to detain refugees of all ages for as long as she thinks is reasonable. The Home Secretary – not the courts – will now have authority to say what is 'reasonable'. There is no time limit and no requirement to get a judge's permission.
So now, the politicians have the legal powers to defeat the invasion.

But do they have the will to do so?

October 4th 1936

CABLE STREET REVISITED

And the "Battle" that never was!

Nearly ninety years ago the extreme left seized an opportunity to create a myth that continues today.
The Myth? That on Sunday October 4th 1936 there was a battle in Stepney, East London between the extreme-left and Mosley and his "Blackshirts". The myth maintains that, "the people of East London rallied to Cable Street and forced back the march of Sir Oswald Mosley and his Blackshirts".
The myth is further perpetuated by a garish mural in Cable Street and a plaque high on a wall in nearby Dock Street both provided and maintained at local taxpayer's expense by the left-wing Tower Hamlets council.
There is an old journalistic motto, "never let the truth get in the way of a good story", and that is certainly the case with the "Battle" of Cable Street!
Even nearly ninety years after the event, Jewish groups and Communists both continue to claim responsibility for the "victory" that never was! In fact, there wasn't many Jews actually involved, most having taken notice of an appeal published on October 2nd by the Jewish Chronicle (reproduced below)

Urgent Warning

It is understood that a large Blackshirt demonstration will be held in East London on Sunday afternoon. Jews are urgently warned to keep away from the route of the Blackshirt march and their meetings. Jews who however innocently become involved in any possible disorders will be actively helping anti-Semitism and Jew-baiting. Unless you want to held the Jew baiters

Keep Away

The Communists however, were there, and were involved. Like their political descendants such as the Anti-Nazi League, the 1930s Reds relished any opportunity to attack the police.
Mosley had announced weeks before that he intended to march through London's East End to speak at several meetings called to celebrate the fourth anniversary of the founding of his British Union of Fascists (BUF).

Despite claims to the contrary, the Communists were not particularly well supported in East London, and following a decision by their National HQ to attempt to disrupt the BUF march they had to import supporters from as far away as Manchester and Glasgow.
The Met Police Commissioner, Sir Phillip Game, was determined that Mosley's legal march would go ahead and put 6000 police officers on the streets. The anti-Fascists reacted then as they do now, and attacked the police. Several hours before the Blackshirts were due to assemble; the Reds were already battling with the police. By the time Mosley began his march the Reds had hijacked lorries and trams and used these as barricades to help them attack the police. An urgent message was sent to the Home Secretary advising him there was rioting in East London, and he promptly banned Mosley's march. When informed of the ban, Mosley simply changed direction and 2000 Blackshirts, with four Blackshirt bands marched West instead of East, and held an extremely successful rally in the Strand.
So that's the story. Police records show that 70 Communist demonstrators were arrested during that day, but not one Blackshirt! Dozens of police officers were injured, some quite seriously.

The "Battle" of Cable Street was not " a heroic defence of the East End against Fascism by the working class", it was simply a Communist led anti-Police riot!

NEWS AROUND BRITAIN

RAF Guilty of Discrimination

A high level enquiry has found that the Royal Airforce pursued an illegal policy of discrimination against White, Male pilot applicants.

When RAF top brass set pilot recruitment targets of 40% female, 20% ethnic minorities and 5% from the LGBT community to be achieved by 2030, the then head of recruitment, Group Captain Lizzie Nicholl complained that the policy was probably illegal. She was ordered by her superiors to comply or resign. She resigned and will now receive substantial compensation from the taxpayer.

The report found the RAF fast-tracked 161 ethnic minority and female candidates ahead of white males. Thirty-one white candidates suffered direct discrimination because of gender or ethnicity. These are now likely to receive compensation.

So far nobody has been disciplined for this racist policy, and the police have declined to say if they are investigating.

Former Labour MP Jailed for Child Porn

Paul Clark, who served as the Labour MP for Gillingham, Kent for 13 years, has been jailed after police found more than 1000 images of children as young as three being raped, and several videos of child sexual abuse on several of his devices.
There was also evidence that he had shared the images with other perverts on social media.
At Maidstone Crown Court, Clark pleaded guilty to charges of making indecent images of children and distribution and was jailed for two years and four months.

During his time in government, Clark served as Parliamentary Private Secretary to Derry Irvine, Charles Falconer, John Prescott, and Ed Balls, before being promoted in 2008 to the role of Parliamentary Under Secretary of State at the Department for Transport.

The Aryan Race

"Founders of Civilisation"

"The elements of which our body is made belong to the cycle of nature; and as for our soul, it's possible that it might return to limbo, until it gets an opportunity to reincarnate itself". These are the words of Adolf Hitler, considered by many in the Hindu faith to have been an Avatar (1), the Sanskrit word for "an embodiment (as of a concept or philosophy) often in a person".

The Sanskrit language as Sir William Jones, 18th century scholar of ancient India, particularly known for his proposition of the existence of a relationship among European and Indo-Aryan languages, explained "whatever be its antiquity, (Sanskrit) is of a wonderful structure: more perfect than the Greek, more copious than the Latin, and more exquisitely refined than either. Yet bearing to both of them a stronger affinity, both in the roots of verbs and in the forms of grammar, than could possibly have been produced by accident. So strong indeed, that no philologer could examine them all three, without believing them to have sprung from some common source, which perhaps, no longer exists". A "common source, which perhaps, no longer exists"?
Please remember this sentence!

In 'League Sentinel' issue 126 I contributed an article entitled "SS Expedition to Tibet (April 1938 to August 1939)" where I discussed SS-Untersturmführer Ernst Schäfer's expedition, under the encouragement of Heinrich Himmler, to the 'roof of the world' where he endeavoured to find evidence that Tibet was "the cradle of the Aryan race". Subsequent discoveries of ancient mummified 'Indo-Aryan' bodies in China's Western Desert in the later 20th Century certainly seem to point that way. And more recently has come to my notice the 'White Tribe of Pakistan' - The Kalasha, or Kalash. These are an Indo-Aryan indigenous people residing in the Chitral District of Khyber-Pakhtunkhwa province of Pakistan, a few thousand strong thus making them the smallest ethno-religious group of the region. Despite attempts to convert the Kalash to Islam they still practice their own religion, a form of Animism (2) very similar to that of the ancient Celts, and speak Kalasha-mun, an Indo-Aryan language. Genetic analysis of Mitochondrial DNA (mtDNA) by Quintana-Murchi L, Chaix R, Wells RS (3) stated that "the Western Eurasian presence in the Kalash population reaches a frequency of 100%.

Indo-Aryans

The Aryan Race

Continued...

Let me return to that earlier sentence that I repeated: a "common-source which no longer exists". From the findings above the "common-source" which links the languages of Greek, Latin and Sanskrit can only be the Aryan race, and, as according to 'National Geographical' magazines (4) article 'Asia: Human Geography' - "Asia is the largest of the world's continents, and home to the world's oldest civilisations",

What was once dismissed as "Nazi pseudo-science" is now being proved as 'fact' by modern scientific measures.

The truth can't and doesn't lie.

National Socialism: The Soul of the Aryan Race

We live in chaotic times but "In the midst of chaos there is also opportunity".(5) The 'Triumph of the Will'. Pure will, the expression of the soul of the Race will overcome the forces of darkness and chaos. The Race of light, order and of spirit is the Aryan Race. We will give our people back their honour, and a future more harmonious, orderly and spiritual than they could have ever believed possible. Remember "Destiny is not a fixed destination. It's what you create. The destiny of a National, or worldwide, well-being has to be strived for". Be assured dear readers,

We will continue striving!

Spanish Officials Desecrate Falangist Leaders Grave

SPAIN

The remains of Spanish Falangist leader José Antonio Primo de Rivera have been forcibly exhumed from the "Valley of the Fallen" mausoleum and moved to a less-prominent cemetery in Madrid on the orders of Spain's left-wing coalition government.

Primo de Rivera

Primo de Rivera was executed at the start of the 1936-1939 Spanish Civil War over his links to nationalist rebels who had carried out a coup against the Republican government.

In the following years his remains were moved four times. The exhumation, which took place on the 120th anniversary of Primo de Rivera's birth, began early on Monday morning and was carried out without media coverage.

A group of people linked to the Primo de Rivera family later attended the site and witnessed the remains being taken away in a hearse to be reburied in San Isidro Catholic cemetery, in southern Madrid. His brother, Miguel, a minister in the Franco regime, and sister, Pilar, who founded the female branch of the Falange, are also buried in San Isidro cemetery.

The body of Fascist leader, Francisco Franco, who ruled Spain from 1939 to 1975, was forcibly removed from the "Valley of the Fallen" in 2019 by Spain's socialist government.

Moves are now ongoing to remove the Benedictine monks from the religious management of the mausoleum, and turn it into a "civic" site.

Migration Row Leads to Dutch General Election

After 18 months in power, the Dutch four-party coalition government has collapsed over bitter migration policy disputes. The Prime Minister, Mark Rutte handed his resignation to the King, and new elections are expected in November.

According to government statistics, asylum applications in the Netherlands jumped by a third last year to over 46,000, and are expected to increase to more than 70,000 this year — topping the previous high from 2015.

Of the four-party ruling coalition, Mark Rutte's "F*orum For Democracy party"* and the "Christian Democrats" proposed new anti-migrant policies, whilst the left-wing "Democrats 66 party" and the "Christian Union" party opposed any further restrictions.

Patriotic "anti-migrant" parties such as the "Freedom Party" led by Geert Wilders are hoping to galvanise the anti-migrant feeling which is emerging in the previous Liberal electorate.

Geert Wilders

The party won 10% of the vote in the 2021 House of Representatives election giving them 17 seats. In the 2023 Senate elections they polled 6%, winning 5 seats in the national Senate.

Nationalists Make Gains in Spanish General Election

The 2023 Spanish general election was held at short notice on Sunday, 23 July 2023,. All 350 seats in the Congress of Deputies were be up for election, as well as 208 of 265 seats in the Senate.

The current government was formed after the November 2019 election and consists of a left-wing coalition between the Spanish Socialist Workers' Party (PSOE) and Unidas Podemos.

Plans to hold the 2023 election in December were scrapped following poor results for the ruling parties in the May regional and local elections.

Despite the predicted swing to the nationalist parties, it was not enough for any party to gain an outright majority.

The Peoples Party only managed to gain 136 seats, meaning they will need the support of the patriotic VOX party (33 seats) to form a coalition government.

The two parties have formed several coalition administrations in the regions following the local elections last May.

Summer Solstice

A sacred day in the Pagan calendar of our North European ancestors

The Summer Solstice, or Litha is the longest day of the year, when the time between sunrise and sunset is at its maximum. After the Summer Solstice daylight time gradually reduces as winter creeps in. To our North European ancestor, this was a time of celebration, for long daylight hours meant longer time in the fields and forests, hunting and growing crops for winter. Depending on the shift in the calendar, the Summer Solstice occurs between June 20th and June 22nd. This year it is June 21st.

While it was still dark, our ancestors made their way to sacred sites, and gathered inside a ring of stones, ritually placed on directions from the wise men of the tribe. Once set, the stones would remain often for centuries. Many of these stone circles remain today, the best preserved being Stonehenge in Wiltshire.

As the first rays of the sun appeared through the sacred circle, a great cheer would rise from the crowd, and the wise ones or priests, would light a sacred bonfire.

The Sun appears above the sacred circle

The day would be spent feasting and dancing, with young men testing their courage in jumping through the flames from the bonfire and walking across hot ashes. The bonfire was a vital part of the celebration as it was believed to keep evil spirits away. For this was a really spiritual event, when "magic" herbs such as Calendula and St John's Wort, both with powerful healing powers, could be safely gathered by the wise women of the tribe, for the making of potions to heal the sick. Prayers were said, asking the Gods for a successful harvest and a mild winter. Good health for the family and good luck and prosperity for the tribe were also asked.

As with many Pagan festivals, the Christian church adopted the Summer Solstice as "St John's Day", the alleged birthday of Saint John the Baptist. But this was not widely accepted, and priests often complained that on midsummer's day "those who claim to be Christians prefer to spend the day celebrating at the bonfire rather than going to church".

Today, the solstice is still widely celebrated in Northern Europe. In Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, midsummer's day is a public holiday. In Sweden and Finland a public holiday is on a fixed date, June 24th. People flock to the countryside, light bonfires, hold feasts and perform traditional dances until sunset.

Maidens perform traditional dances

For Britons it is more awkward to celebrate the solstice. As it is not a public holiday, most people have to spend their day at work. But it is still possible to rise early to watch the arrival of the midsummer sun. In the evening a candle can substitute for the sacred bonfire and a walk outside to watch the setting sun is not beyond most folk. Remember to offer prayers for your family and kith and kin, and give thanks to the Gods for their gifts.

In this multi-faith society it is vital that you do not abandon your individual spiritual heritage.

Blessed Be!

The author is a member of an Essex-based Pagan group, and has studied and practiced various forms of Paganism for over 30 years.

The Stranger

The Stranger within my gate
He may be true or kind,
But he does not talk my talk -
I cannot feel his mind.
I see the face and the eyes and the mouth,
But not the soul behind.

The men of my own stock
They may do ill or well,
But they tell the lies I am wonted to,
They are used to the lies I tell.
And we do not need interpreters
When we go to buy and sell.

The Stranger within my gates,
He may be evil or good,
But I cannot tell what powers control -
What reasons sway his mood;
Nor when the Gods of his far-off land
Shall repossess his blood.

The men of my own stock,
Bitter bad they may be,
But, at least, they hear the things I hear,
And see the things I see;
And whatever I think of them and their likes
They think of the the likes of me.

This was my father's belief
And this is also mine:
Let the corn be all one sheaf -
And the grapes be all one vine,
Ere our children's teeth are set on edge
By bitter bread and wine.
